PROJECT CITIZEN

"This helped us think critically. And in spite of being busy, we learned so many things about formulating a policy."

PROJECT CITIZEN

"Before, I was fond of complaining about many things. I wanted changes as soon as possible. Being involved in this action research changed this outlook. Here, I learned that changes really need time and thorough studies. Before coming up with decisions, one must always think of all the possible effects. I learned that the duty of our government is really a heavy task."
